'PNB plans to invest ₹500 cr in PNB Housing Fin rights issue'

The rights issue process may be completed by December-end, says PNB CEO

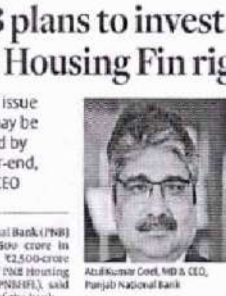
KR SRIVATS
New Delhi, July 29

Punjab National Bank (PNB) will invest ₹500 crore in the proposed ₹2,500-crore rights issue of PNB Housing Finance Ltd (PNBHFL), said a top official of the bank.

The second-largest public sector bank, which has a 32 per cent stake in PNBHFL, has obtained Reserve Bank of India (RBI)'s approval to infuse up to ₹500 crore in the issue, said Atul Kumar Goel, Managing Director & CEO, PNB, on Friday.

"There is no plan to sell our existing holding in PNBHFL. The moment we invest ₹500 crore, the bank's shareholding in PNBHFL will fall below 30 per cent.

"That is the regulatory requirement. But our shareholding will remain above 26 per cent, so that we can continue to be categorised as a promoter," said Goel.



Atul Kumar Goel, MD & CEO, Punjab National Bank

He was hopeful the rights issue process will be completed by December-end. If not, it should be completed by the next quarter (January-March 2023), he said.

PNBHFL's board had approved capital raising of up to ₹2,500 crore via rights issue in March this year. The detailed terms of the rights issue, including the issue price, rights entitlement ratio, record date and timing, are yet to be finalised.

PNBHFL was compelled to call off its ₹4,000-crore capital-raise plan involving Carlyle Group and other marquee investors in October last year. The preferential issue to private equity major Carlyle and other investors had hit a regulatory hurdle on pricing.

Plans to raise capital

Goel said PNB had raised ₹2,000 crore via AT-1 bonds at 8.75 per cent in the first week of July. The proceeds were used to repay capital of ₹1,500 crore raised earlier.

"We are waiting and watching. If the rates are conducive and we are in a position to raise at lesser than 8.75 per cent, we will not mind hitting the market.

"As on date there is no immediate need. The objective is to reduce cost of capital," said Goel.

The PNB board has already approved capital raising of ₹12,000 crore. Of this, ₹5,500 crore is for AT1 and the remaining ₹6,500 crore for Tier-2 capital.

Flipkart-owned PhonePe buys OSLabs in all-cash deal

OSLabs founders, its 100-strong workforce will join PhonePe after the acquisition

SATTI SONU
Bengaluru, July 29

Flipkart-owned digital payments major PhonePe has announced acquisition of 100 per cent stake in OSLabs, which built Indus App Bazaar, the Indian alternative to big tech-controlled app stores. While the companies did not disclose the acquisition deal value, a PhonePe spokesperson told BusinessLine that it is an all-cash deal.

She added that the founders of OSLabs and its 100 employees will join PhonePe after the acquisition. PhonePe has been in talks to acquire OSlabs for $60 million since May 2021. However, the deal was not completed on account of the objection raised by existing investors, Affle Global and Venturesast.

The existing investors had valued Indus OS at $90 million, while PhonePe had offered $60 million to acquire about 90 per cent stake. Since then, the deal has been in a legal tussle. The companies said in a joint statement on July 29 that PhonePe, AGPL (Affle Global) and OSLabs had reached an amicable settlement in the matter, with PhonePe acquiring AGPL's entire stake at a premium. According to a source close to the development, all legal disputes in the matter have been resolved.

In April, PhonePe, Indus OS, Affle Global and Venturseast Proactive Fund II had opted for an out-of-court settlement in the case surrounding the acquisition of Indus OS by PhonePe. With the closure of this deal, PhonePe will pursue its vision for building a homegrown horizontal, local Appstore, while AGPL gets a premium on its original investment.

Commenting on the acquisition, Sameer Nigam, Founder and CEO PhonePe, said: "We are excited to embark on this journey with OSLabs, and build the kind of localised App store that India needs." Mei Theng Leong, Director of AGPL, said: "We are happy that the matter has been amicably settled for all entities. We wish the PhonePe team the very best for its vision of building a homegrown horizontal, local Appstore."

Super-app ambitions

This acquisition is a boost to PhonePe's super-app ambitions. A super-app is one that offers a slew of services such as payments, messaging, online shopping, grocery delivery, on one platform and at least two of these services are used frequently by the app users.

PhonePe will integrate lakhs of localised Indian apps from Indus App Bazaar to its PhonePe Switch, which already has some mini apps integrated.

Crypto collapse floods the market with luxury watches

BLOOMBERG
July 27

The collapse in cryptocurrencies is easing supply of the most sought after watches on the second-hand market, depressing prices for hard-to-get Patek Philippe and Rolex models.

The supply of trophy watches such as the Rolex Daytona or Patek Nautilus 5711A "is now much larger", said online-watch trading platform Chrono24 in an e-mailed statement.

The recent swoon in cryptocurrency valuations "has directly impacted pricing of luxury watches from brands like Rolex and Patek Philippe", said the company, which is based in Karlsruhe, Germany and has more than half-a-million watches listed for sale on its website.

The price decline for the most sought after models is the latest indication that the once soaring second-hand luxury watch market is starting to lose pace.

Surging valuations for crypto currencies had minted a new class of luxury buyers, leading to an unprecedented price increase for models, particularly from brands such as Rolex, Audemars Piguet and Patek. Now that many digital tokens have been hammered, these consumers are going into reverse.

Chrono24 Co-CEO Tim Stracke said the pullback for some models represents a consolidation as prices for the most sought after timepieces fall closer in line with similar watches.

Trading volumes

At the same time, Stracke said trading volumes on the platform, which links dealers or private sellers with buyers, have jumped more than 50 per cent in the first half of the year.

The price of a Patek Philippe Nautilus 5711A, which sells for about $35,000 at retail, surged to $240,000 in the first quarter, according to Chrono24. Now the blue-dialled steel sports watch is fetching about $190,000.
